

Quivers International, Inc. Intellectual Property Policy

Only the intellectual property rights owner or the owner's authorized agent is permitted to report potentially infringing materials to Quivers International, Inc. (Quivers) as set forth below. If you are not the intellectual property rights owner or the owner's authorized agent, you should contact the intellectual property rights owner and they can choose whether to use the procedures set forth in this Quivers International, Inc. Intellectual Property Policy.

Notification: Quivers respects the intellectual property rights of others, and we require you to do the same when using Quivers website and services.

Quivers may, in appropriate circumstances and at our discretion, terminate service and/or access to this website or services for users who infringe the intellectual property rights of others and will enforce its policies against repeat infringers.

If you believe that your work is the subject of copyright infringement and/or trademark infringement and appears on our website or services, please provide Quivers' designated agent the following information:

- A physical or electronic signature of a person authorized to act on behalf of the owner of an exclusive right that is allegedly infringed.
- Identification of the copyrighted and/or trademarked work claimed to have been infringed, or, if multiple works at a single online site are covered by a single notification, a full list of such works at that site.
- Identification of the material that is claimed to be infringing or to be the subject of infringing activity and that is to be removed or access to which is to be disabled at the website or services, and information reasonably sufficient to permit Quivers to locate the material.
- Information sufficient to permit Quivers to contact you as the complaining party, such as an address, telephone number, and, if available, an electronic mail address at which you may be contacted.
- A statement that you have a good faith belief that use of the material in the manner complained of is not authorized by the copyright and/or trademark owner, its agent, or the law.
- A statement that the information in the notification is accurate, and under penalty of perjury, that you are authorized to act on behalf of the owner of an exclusive right that is allegedly infringed.
- Quivers's agent for notice of claims of copyright or trademark infringement on this website or services can be reached as follows:

By mail

Quivers International, Inc.
Attn: Jason Linker

By e-mail

Jason@quivers.com

Please also note that for copyright infringements under Section 512(f) of the Copyright Act, any person who knowingly materially misrepresents that material or activity is infringing may be subject to liability.

Counter-Notification:

If you are a user who posted allegedly infringing material and who received notification to that effect from Quivers, you may elect to send us a counter notice. To be effective, such counter notice must be a written communication provided to our designated agent that includes substantially the following (please consult your legal counsel or see Section 512(g)(3) of the Copyright Act to confirm these requirements):

- Your physical or electronic signature.
- Identification of the material that has been removed or to which access has been disabled and the location at which the material appeared before it was removed or access to it was disabled.
- A statement under penalty of perjury that you have a good faith belief that the material was removed or disabled as a result of mistake or misidentification of the material to be removed or disabled.
- Your name, address, and telephone number, and a statement that you consent to the jurisdiction of Federal District Court for the judicial district in which the address is located, or if your address is outside of the United States, for any judicial district in which Quivers may be found, and that you will accept service of process from the person who provided notification of a complaint of allegedly infringing materials or an agent of such person.

Such written notice should be sent to our designated agent as follows:

By mail

Quivers International, Inc.
Attn: Jason Linker

By e-mail
